ADJACENT USES OF THE HEALTH RISK SCREENING TOOL (HRST)

As a 24/7 source of web-based information about a person's health risk, the HRST has been leveraged to:

Provide

- Provide direct access to health risk information during selected IDD specific telemedicine encounters
- Provide data for initial and annual Level of Care (LOC) determinations
- Provide an electronic platform for nursing assessment data, health care plans, and person-centered plans

Inform

- Inform state Medicaid IDD program individualized budget and rate setting activities
- Inform prioritization for individuals on IDD HCBS Waiver waiting lists
- Inform direct support and nursing staffing needs by measuring healthcare acuity

Address

- Address continuity of care concerns related to direct support and case management staffing turnover
- Address CMS Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) Waiver Health and Safety Performance Measures (PMs) and provide data for valid and reliable reporting on PMs

Visit our booth to learn more about how the HRST can assist states and agencies in their support of people with IDD.

Welcome to Pittsburgh and AAIDD's 147th Annual Meeting of the AAIDD

It is my pleasure, on behalf of the AAIDD Board of Directors, to welcome you to Pittsburgh and the 147th Annual Meeting of AAIDD! This year's program, Setting New Norms for Integrated and Competitive Employment: Challenges, Opportunities, Strategies, includes pre-conference sessions, plenaries, presentations, and posters that highlight the multitude of ways that leaders in the field are advancing AAIDD's mission of promoting progressive policies, sound research, effective practices, and universal human rights for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) around the world.

I want to thank this year's Conference Planning Committee, led by Dan Zhang, President-Elect. He and the Conference Planning Committee identified a critical issue—advancing competitive, integrated employment—and brought together plenary speakers, pre-conference sessions, and presentations that will challenge all of us to think about ways to invest in a future where all people with IDD have opportunities for competitive, integrated employment that are aligned with their vision, values, and goals. The 2023 Local Arrangements Committee, chaired by Guy Caruso and Andrea Witwer, has been outstanding and deserves many thanks for recruiting volunteers, organizing the silent auction, securing sponsorships, and welcoming us to Pittsburgh. The talented AAIDD staff have worked tirelessly to ensure a high-quality conference experience. Led by Executive Director Maggie Nygren, the AAIDD team provides critical leadership that enables all of us to make a difference through our collective work. I also want to thank the AAIDD board and all the Interest Network and Chapter/Region Leadership teams for all that they do for the organization and conference.

Please introduce yourself to AAIDD leaders and seek out ways to get involved while we are together in Pittsburgh. During the conference and beyond, please take advantage of opportunities to network, connect with new and old friends and colleagues, and become involved in the life of the Association. For those who are not yet members of AAIDD, I encourage you to join and become part of this thriving community. The social activities and opportunities at the conference enable all of us to build networks that lead to innovations in research, policy, and practice in intellectual and developmental disabilities. I hope the conference stimulates all of us to think deeply about issues that are impacting research, policy, and practice and identify ways to contribute to the mission of AAIDD and advance change in the field. I look forward to connecting and learning and growing together.

Thank you for participating in AAIDD and in its 147th Annual Meeting.

President, AAIDD Board of Directors, 2022–2023

Welcome to Pittsburgh and the 147th AAIDD Annual Meeting!

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the 147th Annual Meeting of the American Association on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (AAIDD). I trust that you are excited and rejuvenated to be back to the full in-person conference after a break during the pandemic. The planning of this conference was a collaborative effort among an informative conference planning committee, an amazing local arrangements committee—led by Guy Caruso and Andrea Witwer—who represent University Centers for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities (UCEDDs) in Pennsylvania and Ohio, the AAIDD Board of Directors, and the great AAIDD staff. With the diligent work of the local arrangements committee, you have plenty of opportunities to enjoy what Pittsburgh has to offer, including some specially planned fun, and locally flavored activities.

The theme of this year's conference is Setting New Norms for Integrated and Competitive Employment: Challenges, Opportunities, Strategies, which fits well with the challenges and opportunities of the post-pandemic era. As the world navigates the multitude of changes that resulted from the pandemic, people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) face additional challenges in finding and keeping integrated and competitive employment. We need to identify new strategies for assisting them to obtain and maintain employment. Multi-tiered collaborations are more important than ever in the current environment.

The plenary sessions provide theoretical and practical insights for effective strategies at national, state, and local levels. The many fantastic concurrent, symposium, and poster sessions offer innovative ways to improve employment outcomes in addition to other important topics. Don't forget to visit the sponsors and exhibitors who support our organization and have plenty of resources of interest to all conference attendees. Finally, plan to attend the receptions to network with colleagues and expand your professional connections.

I hope you find this conference to be a great experience and that you consider joining AAIDD if you are not a member yet. I look forward to meeting you in Pittsburgh. Welcome to the conference and we are so glad you're here!

The Association prohibits unlawful discriminatory practices, including but not limited to discriminatory harassment, sexual harassment, threats, abuse, and sustained disruption of events.

If a participant of an AAIDD event, as a member, speaker, registrant, vendor, volunteer, guest, or other participant, engages in prohibited behavior, the Association reserves the right to take any action it deems appropriate.

AAIDD reserves the right to:

- Remove an individual from any AAIDD activity without warning or refund;
- Prohibit an individual from participating in future AAIDD activities, including publishing in AAIDD publications;
- Exclude an individual from AAIDD leadership positions;

Such sanctions may be applied regardless of whether or not the offender is a member of AAIDD. Appropriate sanctions also will be taken toward any individual who knowingly makes a false allegation of harassment.

This policy against harassment at AAIDD activities is not intended to limit open discussion on the merits of particular work or issues presented at AAIDD events. It applies only to behavior at AAIDD events and activities.

Welcome to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Founded at the confluence of three rivers and steeped in history, Pittsburgh has reinvented itself with one of the most dramatic environmental transformations in the world. The city has invested in restoring its rivers and trails, nursing its beloved rivers back to health, and creating some of the most popular outdoor recreational areas in the eastern United States. Over the past half-century, this one-time poster child for industrial pollution has emerged as a clean and green city.

Downtown Pittsburgh's Cultural District and Strip District Terminal are also part of the city's inspiring story of renewal. Once a blighted part of the city, these districts now include theaters, galleries, shops, breweries, and eateries.

Whether jogging the tree-lined riverfront trails; taking in the action of the Steelers, Penguins or Pirates; discovering a world-class art scene; or exploring the city's jazz legacies, there is something to entertain everyone!
